The delightfully comic account of a British couple and their imported cats starting over in a new country, whilst discovering the joys and pitfalls of adapting to a strange culture, continues in this third collection of Bucket To Greece featuring Volumes 7 – 9. Victor’s life is enriched by his growing circle of family and friends, though a stint flogging vliita on Panos’ market stall squashes his illusions that he cuts a suave figure.

Forced to play host to Marigold’s friend Geraldine and the sexually infected fellow she has in tow, Victor is at least consoled by the thought that they share a common interest in mould. When Marigold hears that Guzim’s young wife is due to visit, she insists on giving the Albanian shed dweller’s hovel a makeover. Violet Burke installs herself in the apothiki and gets on her bicycle to find cleaning work in the village, but Barry suspects that Vi has something to do with the disappearance of Cynthia’s vile cat.

If you're a fan of Greek travel and culture then the Bucket to Greece series is a must, with a bucketful of laughs along the way.
