The Happier Than Billionaire Journey

Nadine's journey began when she left her corporate job in the United States to pursue a life of adventure in Costa Rica. The decision to abandon the comforts of a stable job and delve into the unknown may seem daunting, but Nadine embraced the challenge, believing that true happiness often lies outside our comfort zones.

Through her blog and bestselling books, Nadine shares her personal experiences, offering a unique perspective on life and demonstrating that happiness isn't just reserved for the wealthy. Her writing resonates with people of all backgrounds, as she invites readers to reevaluate their priorities and embrace a simpler, more fulfilling existence.

Finding Joy in Simplicity

While the world constantly bombards us with messages about the importance of material possessions, Nadine's philosophy is centered around keeping life simple. She advocates for letting go of unnecessary clutter, both physically and emotionally, and finding joy in the little things that truly matter.

By embracing a minimalist lifestyle, Nadine discovered that she could focus on experiences rather than possessions. She found happiness in spending quality time with loved ones, exploring breathtaking natural landscapes, and immersing herself in the local cultures and traditions of the places she visited.

Living on Less

One of the core principles of the Happier Than Billionaire lifestyle is learning to live on less. By reducing expenses and prioritizing what truly brings joy and fulfillment, Nadine has achieved a level of freedom that exceeds the limitations of financial wealth.

Through her blog and books, Nadine shares practical tips on how to achieve financial independence while living a rich and meaningful life. She offers insights on budgeting, saving money, and generating income streams that are aligned with one's passions.

Traveling the World and Inspiring Others

This book answers your most frequently asked question, “What kind of lifestyle can I afford on my budget in Costa Rica?”

The newest addition to the Happier Than A Billionaire series is a step-by-step guide to picking a town, finding a home, and creating a budget.

Whether you plan on renting or buying a home, we’ll break it down into three categories: Tico, moderately appointed, and gringo style. You’ll learn what to expect to find around the entire country in your price range.

- We created three monthly budget categories, including $1200, $2500, and $3500. These amounts represent not just rent, but an entire monthly budget, including groceries, healthcare, utilities, etc.

- These budget categories often correlate with rent for the three housing styles, but not always. You may find you can only afford a Tico style home in a touristy part of Guanacaste but a fancier home elsewhere.

- If you’re looking to purchase a home, we’ve also created several price categories for you. Whether you’re looking to spend under $150,000 or over $500,000, you’ll learn what you may find for the money in different parts of the country.

Best of all, you'll hear from REAL PEOPLE with REAL BUDGETS. They'll break everything down from annual car repairs and healthcare to utilities and groceries.

Once you've reviewed the tools we've prepared, you'll be ready to pick a town, find a home, and create a budget. Sample listings are provided from the Central Valley, Guanacaste Province, Southern Pacific Zone, and the Caribbean to help paint a clear picture of what to expect in various parts of the country.

Also included in this installment of the Happier Series is useful information on lifestyle, weather, proximity to international airports, and the availability of healthcare facilities.
