The final chapter in Doreen's animal memoirs! For cat lovers old and new – particularly those whose lives are ruled by feline fancy!

Love is in the air...

When she's not chasing errant donkeys in her best chiffon gown or leaving the teapot in the fridge, Doreen has her hands full looking after her family of Siamese cats.

In this tale of cats and calamities, new feline characters arrive to terrorise the tranquil West Country village. The timid lilac-point kitten Shantung is joined by the bold-as-brass Saphra, who was raised by a parrot and has a penchant for hidden treasure.

The terrible twosome are all set to make the cottage a hotbed for mischief...

With cameo appearances from Father Adams, Fred Ferry and the nosey Mrs Binney, there's never a dull moment, and love is in the air for one of the villagers...

MORE CATS IN THE BELFRY is the final book in Doreen Tovey's memoirs about living with Siamese cats – and other animals: set in the British countryside, it is told with wit, mischief, and above all humour.

'Tovey's amusing tales of life revolving around her feline friends have enchanted readers for years' – The Good Book Guide

'recommended very strongly to those who love animals in general, cats – Siamese in particular, to those with a sense of humour, a liking for England and the English countryside way of life, and semi-autobiographies. These books don't date and I plan to re-read mine regularly for another 20 years – or however many more I live.' – Lyn McConchie

'If you love cats, you'll enjoy every chapter of each book in this witty, warm-hearted collection' – Your Cat Magazine

'No-one writes about cats with more wit, humour and affection than Doreen Tovey. Every word is a delight!' – The People's Friend

'Doreen has a wonderful, warm, and witty way with words that bring the personality of each cat to life and perfectly describe her love of them.' – Life With Siamese Cats

'Every so often, there comes along a book – or if you're lucky books – which gladdens the heart, cheers the soul... Just such books are those written by Doreen Tovey' – Cat World
