

The Ultimate Tagology Guide To Tag Rugby: Become a Pro in No Time!

 WHAT YOU SAY "Get close to the ball carrier" • "Grab and remove the tag belt" • Hold the tag above your head and shout "Tag!" • "Return the tag to the tagged player"

1 Pair up the players to make two teams. Give each team a name, such as "Reds" and "Blues".

2 Put them back to back in the middle of the area with the Blues facing one way and Reds the other, each pair 2m from the next.

3 Shout out "Red" or "Blue". The players of that colour sprint to the line in front of them. At the same time, the other players turn and try to tag the runners before they reach the line. Tell the players to get close to the ball carrier.

4 The players return tags and repeat the game. Continue until everyone has had at least five goes at sprinting.

✓ Making a Tag tackle
To make a tag, the defender must get close to the attacker, reach out and cleanly rip the tag from the attacker's tag belt.

How many players do I need?
You can run this activity with as many pairs as you like, as long as you have enough space for them all to line up.

Tag rugby has gained immense popularity in recent years, becoming a favorite sport for both children and adults alike. Its simplicity, fast-paced nature, and lack of heavy contact make it an ideal choice for those who are looking for a fun and exciting way to stay active and socialize.

What is Tag Rugby?

Tag rugby, often referred to as "touch rugby," is a non-contact version of rugby where players score points by pulling a tag (velcro patch) from their opponent's shorts. The objective of the game is to evade opposing players and reach the end of the field to score a try.
